Hall Resigns As National GOP Leader

White House Post
May Be Offered;
To Leave On Feb. 1

WASHINGTON, Jan. 11 (AP)—Leonard W. Hall resigned as Republican national chairman today. There were indications he may be offered a White House appointment as a preliminary to seeking the governorship of New York next year.

After a brief conference with President Eisenhower, Hall announced his resignation would be effective Feb. 1.

The retiring chairman, who has filled the post since April 10, 1953, said that at a meeting of the GOP National Committee here Jan. 19 he will name a seven-member subcommittee to consider a new chairman.

Make Recommendations
After hearing Eisenhower's views, the group will make its recommendations for election of a successor at a Jan. 22 meeting of the full committee.

If Eisenhower follows the lead of most presidents, he will in effect pick the new chairman. In any event, Hall's successor is likely to be an advocate of the "modern Republicanism" which the President has set as a pattern for the party.

Most frequently mentioned as possible successors to Hall are Ray Bliss, Ohio state GOP chairman and head of the party's Midwest and Rocky Mountain state chairmen's ass'n; L. Judson Morhouse, New York national committeeman; Howard Pyle, former governor of Arizona and now a presidential assistant; H. Meade Alcorn Jr., Connecticut committee man, and Fred C. Scribner Jr. of Maine, former national committee counsel and now general counsel of the treasury.

Eisenhower said in a statement that after Hall takes an expected six-weeks vacation "I sincerely hope that his wisdom and his long experience as a legislator, judge and chairman, will continue to be available not only to the party but to the nation in the years ahead."

Will Start Vacation
White House press secretary James C. Hagerty said Hall will start his vacation in Florida. He added:

"I would think Mr. Hall's great talents would find suitable use after Mr. Hall has completed his vacation."

This was taken as a clear sign that if Hall wants it, he can have a presidential appointment of a nature yet to be determined. Reports that he might succeed Postmaster General Summerfield were scotched by Eisenhower's recent announcement that Summerfield would be reappointed.

Hall, an Oyster Bay, N.Y., attorney, was understood to be leaving his post as chairman because of the financial drain. He has served without pay for more than 3½ years receiving only his expenses.

Hall has been considering the idea of running for the Republican nomination for governor in New York, to oppose Democratic Gov. W. Averell Harriman in the latter's expected bid for a second term.

U.S. Surprised By Adenauer Call For H-Bomb's Ban

WASHINGTON, Jan. 11 (AP)—Surprised State Department officials sought more information today on a call by Chancellor Konrad Adenauer of West Germany for the great powers to ban thermonuclear weapons.

Privately officials were astonished and dismayed at Adenauer's action at a news conference in Bonn. It was interpreted as a blow to United States policy of avoiding any actual step in disarmament without prior agreement on ironclad inspection and control systems.

Adenauer said world powers should clear the way for settlement of international problems by prohibiting thermonuclear weapons. He declared such weapons "no longer can be considered as a means of waging war."

Bomb Scares Close B&O, Bus Depots In Baltimore

BALTIMORE, Jan. 11 (AP)—Two of Baltimore's transportation centers — the Baltimore and Ohio's Camden railroad station and the Greyhound Bus Depot — were shut down today while scores of police checked out the fifth and sixth bomb scares of the week.

All they found was a ticking alarm clock inside a sailor's duffel bag in a locker at the bus station.

Two anonymous telephone calls touched off today's episodes, the fifth and sixth bomb threats in the last five days.

A call to the B&O's main office shortly before noon said a bomb would explode in its venerable

Macmillan Begins Work On Cabinet

Tries To Formulate
New Government In
Wake Of Warnings

LONDON, Jan. 11 (AP)—Sharp warnings against giving way to the Tory "old guard" faced Prime Minister Harold Macmillan tonight as he worked feverishly at forming a new government.

The 62-year-old Prime Minister—known as "Mac the Knife" by some for the way he has slashed red tape and chopped off political heads—confidently predicted his Cabinet would be ready by the weekend.

Queen Elizabeth is breaking her holiday at Sandringham again on Sunday and returning to Buckingham Palace, presumably to receive and give formal approval to the list of new ministers.

Macmillan dined with Sir Winston Churchill, who is believed to have played an important behind-the-scenes role in gaining Macmillan the prime minister's post after Sir Anthony Eden resigned on Wednesday, citing ill health.

Made Job Easier

Eden made his job easier for his successor by giving up his seat in the House of Commons and bowing completely out of the political picture. He told voters in the Warwick-Leamington District he has represented for 33 years he is "not fit and able to give his full time to the task."

The Queen offered Eden an earldom, but he is reported to have told her he did not wish to accept a peerage "for the present." He left open the possibility he would eventually move to the House of Lords.

The choice of Macmillan over Richard A. Butler, the party leader in the House of Commons, was generally interpreted as a victory for the party's right wing.

Three of the most important moulders of public opinion in Britain cautioned Macmillan against leaning toward the rightwing extremists.

The Times in an editorial warned:

"The old guard of the party will be encouraged and fortified to try to turn their rearward action into an offensive one."

Calling upon Macmillan to resist such a move, the Times said: "There is only a road forward for Conservatism; there is no road back."

Key ministers of the old Eden administration were called to No. 10 Downing St. in assembly line fashion by Macmillan. Some were told they are being promoted in the new administration, others that they are being demoted or dropped entirely.

Butler, who served as No. 2 man in the Eden administration, conferred with Macmillan several times during the day. He has agreed to remain in the new government and is sure to have a powerful voice in the regime.

There is increasing talk of him being appointed foreign secretary replacing Selwyn Lloyd.

Weather Mostly Warms Up After Frigid Blasts

(By The Associated Press)

The weather generally was warming up in the nation late Friday after heavy snowfalls and the most frigid temperatures of the season from the Midwest through the Northeast.

At least 31 deaths were attributed to the wintry weather. These included 10 in Illinois, 10 in Michigan, 4 in New York, 4 in New Jersey, and 3 in New England.

Temperatures were below zero in many parts of the Midwest and the Northeast Friday morning. Saranac Lake, N. Y., had a low of -28. The mercury ranged from 10 to 17 below in many parts of Upper New York State.

The thermometer fell to -21 at Lebanon, N. H., -16 at Houlton, Maine, and -15 at Caribou and Limestone, Maine.

Joliet, Ill., had -14, Rockford -13 and Moline -12. At Chicago the low was -3, the coldest day there in almost two years.

John Graham Goes To Death

Dies In Colorado
Gas Chamber For Dynamiting Plane

CANON CITY, Colo., Jan. 11 (AP)—John Gilbert Graham was executed tonight in Colorado's gas chamber for the dynamite murder of his mother and 43 other airline passengers Nov. 1, 1955.

Calm as death neared, the 24-year-old father of two children inhaled deeply the cyanide gas that spiraled up from a vat beneath the cold metal chair where he sat strapped and blindfolded.

Unconsciousness came seconds after the lever mixing the gas was tripped by prison officials.

Strapped In Chair

Graham was strapped in the death chamber at 7:50 p.m. (MST). He displayed remarkable calm as the guards worked around him. Graham was wearing only a pair of white shorts. Slippers which he wore into the death chamber were removed.

A stethoscope from which a tube led outside the chamber, was attached to Graham's chest at 7:55 p.m.

Warden Harry Tinsley, who supervised the execution, patted Graham twice on his left shoulder and then stepped outside the chamber, closing the metal door behind him.

Graham sat immobile in the chair until 7:56 p.m., when sodium cyanide pellets clattered into a crock of acid. Graham jerked at the sound. Gas rose swiftly and Graham gulped at the almost invisible puff of poison.

Head Falls Forward

His head fell forward and then backward as unconsciousness overtook him.

Graham, raised in a welfare home after his father died, was condemned for the murder of his prosperous mother, Mrs. Daisie King, 53.

She was with 43 others aboard a United Air Lines plane that exploded over Longmont, Colo., 11 minutes after leaving Denver's airport. Graham confessed he placed a homemade dynamite time bomb in her luggage.

Tinsley and John J. Gibbons, one of three court-appointed attorneys who defended Graham, said the condemned man was jovial and laughing despite the trace of nervousness in his last hours.

Gibbons, last friend to see Graham, reported they talked "about Alaska, deep sea fishing, a lot of other things, including how he's prepared to meet his Maker."

Last Words Goodbye

Gibbons said Graham's last words to him were: "Goodbye, thanks for coming down. Be sure to call Gloria—Graham's wife—when you get back." Graham's wife made her last visit to him last Sunday.

Although Graham requested no special last meal, Tinsley said he gave him "something better" than the regular prison fare. "He likes salads and fruits," Tinsley said, "so we fixed him a steak, a combination salad, a fruit cocktail and ice cream."

"Mad Bomber" Hunt Narrows

NEW YORK, Jan. 11 (AP)—The hunt for the "mad bomber" who has planted 32 homemade bombs in the city in 16 years appeared today to have narrowed to 42 suspects.

All are men residing in suburban Westchester County, from which a number of the bomber's warning and threat notes have been mailed.

The list of suspects was drawn up on the basis of handwriting samples which were compared with the notes.

Police checked through 375,000 Westchester driving license applications and 50,000 signatures in county jury files.

A check of Westchester Hospital and medical records also is under way in the belief the bomber is physically as well as mentally ill.

In the latest note believed written by the bomber, mailed Dec. 27 from Mount Vernon in Westchester County, the writer said "my days are numbered" and that "most of my adult life has been spent in bed."

The note was received by the New York Journal-American.

Militia Fires On Workers; One Is Killed

Czepl Steel Plant
Laborers Protest
Layoffs; Many Hurt

BUDAPEST, Jan. 11 (AP)—Labor unrest flared today at the big Czepl steel works. Communist Hungarian militiamen opened fire on workers protesting layoffs. One worker was known dead, but the killings may total as high as five.

The number of wounded could not be determined and reports on how many were killed varied. Russian and Hungarian forces sealed off approaches to the industrial complex on an island south of Budapest and it was impossible to get an official casualty count.

Trouble broke out also at the Ganz railway car works and repair shops in southeast Budapest. Police said they fired into the air to halt a demonstration. No casualties were reported.

"We shot into the air," one policeman said. "We did not want to injure anyone, but we did not want an Oct. 23 revolution either."

Soviet troops were also present at both places but apparently left the action against the demonstrators up to the Hungarians.

Attends Conference

Radio Budapest informed Hungarians tonight that Janos Kadar, the Soviet-supported Premier, participated in a conference in Moscow Thursday with Kremlin leaders and Red China Premier Chou En-lai. Chou now is in Warsaw, where he urged Poland to remain solidly within the Soviet bloc of Communist nations, and blamed "Western imperialists" for the revolt in Hungary. Chou will visit later in Budapest.

Reliable sources said about 5,000 of the Czepl plant's 38,000 employees, most of them white collar workers, gathered around the main office about 9 a.m. Militiamen were called to disperse them, but only three could be found at the plant's gate. These quickly disappeared.

All morning the demonstrators remained at the office, shouting insults at the government management. At 1 p.m. three truckloads of militiamen arrived armed with tommyguns.

According to one version, the unarmed demonstrators rushed the trucks and they pulled away. The crowd pursued them with bricks and whatever they could lay their hands on. This source said the Communist militiamen fired at the demonstrators to defend themselves.

Demonstrators Dispersed

The demonstrators apparently dispersed after the killings.

There has been persistent unrest at the Czepl plant. Many workers there supported the anti-Soviet revolution. There has been further aggravation because of government attacks on the plant's independent workers council and widespread layoffs which the government has attributed to shortages of coal and raw materials.

Many workers have been demanding that Premier Kadar be dismissed so that Hungary could obtain from the West the coal and raw material aid it needs, but which some Western countries refuse to advance as long as the Soviet-imposed government remains in power.

Chou Arrives In Poland From Kremlin Talks

WARSAW, Jan. 11 (AP)—Red China's Premier Chou En-lai arrived in Poland today direct from talks in the Kremlin. He immediately assailed the United States and urged that Poland line up solidly with the rest of the Soviet-led Communist bloc.

Wladyslaw Gomulka, head of the Polish Communist party, and Premier Josef Cyrankiewicz stood by unsimiling as Chou accused the Western powers of trying to create new international tension and the United States in particular with ambitions to supplant Britain and France as "colonial powers."

The government of Poland, which has taken a line of increasing independence from Kremlin rule, is openly bidding for economic aid from the United States and Western sources.

Chou's next stop is Hungary, where an anti-Soviet revolt has been put down by Russian armed might. Moscow disclosed that Janos Kadar, the Soviet-supported Hungarian premier, was in the Soviet capital attending the talks Chou held with Kremlin officials.

Gomulka and Cyrankiewicz showed no reaction as Chou stressed the "leadership" of the Soviet Union and scored "imperialist diversionist activities in Hungary."

Chou made his remarks during welcoming ceremonies for his delegation. Cyrankiewicz expressed Poland's sympathy with Chinese efforts "for the preservation of peace," and said he hoped Chou's visit "would further strengthen the links joining our two countries."

The Polish United Workers (Communist) party talks of relations with the Soviet Union only in terms of equality. It has not gone along with the Soviet view that the Hungarian revolt was an imperialist plot.

Hillary Stakes Out Sites For Antarctic Expedition

MCMURDO SOUND, Antarctica, Jan. 11 (AP)—Sir Edmund P. Hillary, the New Zealand beekeeper who conquered Mt. Everest, is busy these days staking out a site for his country's antarctic expedition just three miles from the U. S. Operation Deep Freeze base.

He got a helping hand yesterday from a group of Americans who skied through snow-covered volcanic hills and along pressure ridges to reach Hillary's spot—Pratt Point. There is nothing beyond to the south but corrugated ice shelf for 500 miles.

Hillary had planned to build his Scott base camp 30 miles west of the U. S. base and across McMurdo Sound. There the offshore moraines—dirt and rocks deposited by glaciers—proved to be serious obstacles for unloading supply ships.

Hillary's little ship, the Endeavor, is being unloaded 10 miles from his present camp, at the edge of the ice shelf. When an American tractor driver saw the size of the vessel, he jokingly asked the New Zealander:

"Want us to tow your ship on the ice to camp to save unloading?"
Knighood sits lightly on the broad shoulders of 4 foot 4 Hillary. Introduced as "Sir Edmund" to

Capt. David W. Canham Jr. of Mount Clemens, Mich., commander at McMurdo, Hillary asked: "What is your Christian name?"
"Dave," the American skipper replied.

"Well, just call me Ed," said the man who in June 1953, had the world's highest mountain at his feet.

Lt. Richard Bowers of Quonset Point, R. I., and Harrisburg, Pa., whose 24-man crew built the American South Pole observation station, led the party assisting Hillary. It was familiar country to Bowers, who had trained his polar crew in camping survival methods there during the long antarctic winter night.

Neal Bicknese of Wykoff, Minn., helped level the windblown lava and cinder surface with a bulldozer. He was glad to give a hand. His heart is in New Zealand, since plans to marry a girl he met there on a trip a year ago. Others who helped are Bill Lease of Cumberland, Md.; Charles Bevilacqua, Woburn, Mass.; James Niemeyer, Port Angeles, Wash.

At present the New Zealanders' camp consists of only one small tent. Their expedition is not big by Deep Freeze standards. Only 22 will winter at the camp in contrast with 120 Americans at McMurdo.

Boy Loses Arm Mangled In Meat Grinder

BALTIMORE, Jan. 11 (P)—Fifteen-year-old Darrell James Keiper lost most of his right arm today when it was mangled in a meat grinder at a plant where he'd hoped to work.

The accident occurred about 4 a.m. Police and firemen got the arm free about 8 a.m. Doctors then amputated it above the elbow.

Darrell was conscious most of the time.

The boy was at the Dix Animal Fat Refining Co., feeding sausage into a grinder, when his hand caught in the machine.

The boy from suburban Edgemere was reported in fair condition.

His mother, Mrs. Harry Keiper, said the boy had planned to quit high school after his 16th birthday late this month. Mrs. Keiper said of two children who used a toy he was hoping to get a job when pistol to hold up a finance company went to the plant last night pany.

Stewart D. Harrod, found guilty of robbing a State Finance Co. office last Dec. 19, was given the maximum sentence for armed robbery by Judge Joseph L. Carshut off the power. Police and firemen, unable to free the arm, dismantled as much of the machine as possible and rushed the boy to City Hospitals where firemen finally got his arm out of the apparatus.

Patrolman Howard Rappold said DeBrowski reported the boy was pushing the meat with his hand instead of a wooden mallet when it was caught.

Mental Patients Escape From District Hospital

WASHINGTON, Jan. 11 (P)—Two mental patients who escaped from the maximum security ward of District General Hospital were still at large today.

The Negro patients, described as dangerous, were clad in white pajamas at the time they overpowered attendants and leaped through a first-floor window about 6 o'clock last night.

Sought by police are Colon Lockley, 20, and Ralph Jackson, 19, both of Washington. A third patient, Leroy Houston, 29, of Washington, was caught a short time after the break.

Father Gets 20 Year Term

BALTIMORE, Jan. 11 (P)—A 20-year prison sentence was handed down today to a 25-year-old father late this month. Mrs. Keiper said of two children who used a toy he was hoping to get a job when pistol to hold up a finance company went to the plant last night pany.

Stewart D. Harrod, found guilty of robbing a State Finance Co. office last Dec. 19, was given the maximum sentence for armed robbery by Judge Joseph L. Carshut off the power. Ours Supports Pay Raise Bill In Legislature

Delegate Is Named To 5 Committees

CHARLESTON, W. Va.—(Special to The News)—Del. Larkin Ours (R-Grant) supported a bill introduced to raise salaries of the members of West Virginia's Board of Public Works.

"This bill has the backing of Gov. Cecil H. Underwood and I feel that I should support his stand in the matter," the delegate explained.

The Dorcas farm operator, who is now serving his second term in the House of Delegates, also reported that he plans to support a local-option deer measure that is being introduced by Del. Joseph Kessel (R-Mineral).

The legislation would permit each West Virginia county to make its own decisions relative to deer hunting.

Del. Ours has drawn five important committee assignments for the current term. They include:

Agriculture; Labor and Industries; Railroads, Game and Fish, and Forestry and Conservation.

Del. George H. Seibert (R-Ohio), minority leader, said he feels that Ours can render valuable service on each of the committees to which he has been appointed.

"His experience in the field of agriculture will be especially valuable in forming farm policies," the leader added.

Del. Ours served as president of the Grant County Farm Bureau for four years.

He is residing at the Ruffner Hotel during his 60-day stay here. "Any Grant countian who wishes to contact me on any matter can reach me there or at the House of Delegates in the capitol building," Ours stated.

Men's Residence At Potomac State College Named Memorial Hall

This new three-story, spacious and modern dormitory and residence hall for men on the campus of Potomac State College, Keyser, W. Va., will be formally dedicated tomorrow at a ceremony scheduled for 2 p. m. The building will be named Memorial Hall in honor of former students who gave their lives in World War II, has been in use for several weeks, and is one of the newer additions to the campus. The dedication ceremony, which will feature talks by several prominent people and music by student organizations, is open to the public. The ceremony will include the unveiling of a large plaque bearing the names of 40 men and one woman who died during the war, as well as photographs of each former student honored.

Neighbors Cut Wood Each Year

POINT PLEASANT, W. Va.—The frontier spirit of "helping hands" is still around in this age of rockets.

Sampson Matheny, a former blacksmith, who's 94 and lives in the small crossroads town of Leon, knows what that spirit is like.

Matheny's relatives and Mason County neighbors strike out for his homestead once each year for a day's wood-chopping.

It's a community custom that began 25 years ago when Matheny, better known as "Uncle Samp," suffered a broken leg.

Disabled and alone, his tasks went undone and his supply of firewood rapidly diminished.

His neighbors trooped over one day and when they left at dusk to return to their chores, Uncle Samp had enough firewood to last the winter.

Through the years, the wood-chopping has not changed in purpose but acquired a festive old-fashioned air.

The women combine their cooking efforts and the men go out in the woods with axes and saws. While the chips fly and the food simmers, they catch up on who's been doing what during the past year.

At noon the wood cutters, their wives and children stop to eat. Afterwards, the women join the men in helping to reduce the tall timber to firewood.

The affair ends when Uncle Samp's woodpile is stacked high enough to last until springtime.

The original Hawaiians actually were immigrants from other tropical islands.

Louis A. Johnson Will Deliver Address At Memorial Hall Dedication Sunday

KEYSER —Louis A. Johnson, who has held the offices of secretary of war, and is past national commander of the American Legion, will deliver the principal address at the dedication exercises at Potomac State College Sunday, dedicating Memorial Hall, the new dormitory for men at the college here. The program for the day is scheduled for 2 p. m. in the college gymnasium. A large attendance is expected as information has been received from many former students, and a large group is expected from Keyser and throughout the local area.

Mr. Johnson is presently a member of the law firm of Steptoe and Johnson, in Clarksburg, Charleston, Washington, and New York City.

The name "Memorial Hall" was chosen in honor of the 40 men and one woman, all former students at the college, who gave their lives in the service of the country in World War II.

Two former Potomac State College students will have prominent places on the program.

Giving the invocation will be the Rev. William W. Beale, formerly of Keyser, now minister at Calvary Methodist Church, Martinsburg, W. Va. A son of Mr. and Mrs. Albert L. Beale of Keyser, he is a graduate of Keyser High School, Potomac State (45) and Wesleyan College (47). He received the S. T. B. Degree from Westminster Theological Seminary, 1951, and was national Methodist scholarship student at Westminster Seminary 1948-51.

He was ordained deacon and received on trial into the West Virginia Annual Conference of the Methodist Church, September 1947 by Bishop James H. Straughn at Huntington, W. Va., and was ordained elder and received into full connection by the Baltimore Annual Conference, June 1951.

His pastorates have been at Headsville, Clarksburg, Buckhannon, Randallstown, Md., prior to the present assignment. He has been active with the church in many capacities including district and conference statistical staffs and youth work. At present he is Hagerstown District secretary of Evangelism, a member of the Baltimore Conference Commission on Evangelism, and chairman of the radio committee of the Martinsburg-Berkeley County Ministerial Association.

Invited to give the benediction is the Rev. Robert E. Lewis, now assistant to Most Rev. John M. McNamara, D. D., auxiliary Bishop of Washington, D. C., at St. Gabriel's R. C. Church.

A native of Cumberland, Md., where his mother now resides, he attended Potomac State College 1939-40, majoring in engineering.

He attended St. Charles College, Catonsville, Md., for two years before entering St. Mary's Seminary, Baltimore, for a four-year study of theology receiving both the Sacred Theology Degree and Licentiate in Sacred Theology. He was ordained to the priesthood June 12, 1947.

His first assignment was to St. Mary's Church, Washington. He was transferred to St. Gabriel's Church December 1948, and, in addition to his regular duties he serves as an advocate at the Diocesan Court.

Nearly 100 close relatives of the 41 former students being honored in the naming of the building have indicated that they will be present for the program. They will have a special place of honor in the gymnasium, where the program is to take place. Members of the faculty will sit together in another specially reserved section.

The public has a cordial invitation to attend the program and to be guests of the college following the dedication when there will be open house at Memorial Hall during which refreshments will be served. All are invited to inspect the hall and see the bronze plaque bearing names of the war dead as well as a group of their individual pictures.

Main speaker for the program is Louis A. Johnson, former secretary of defense, assistant secretary of war, and past National commander of the American Legion.

William G. Thompson and Senator Ralph J. Bean will speak on behalf of the Board of Governors of West University and of the college's Alumni Association as presidents of those respective groups.

The program will also include special music by the college band and Potomac State Singers and the reading of the Honor Roll by Dean K. S. McKee.

The program is open to the public.

Bankers Of Five Counties Air Ideas For Legislature

MOOREFIELD — Bankers representing five counties of Region VII met at the Hotel McNeill Friday night with legislators in this area to present and explain proposed legislation to be sponsored by the West Virginia Bankers Association.

A similar meeting was held in Martinsburg for the three remaining counties comprising Region VII.

R. M. Golliday, Romney, chairman of this Region, presided at the meeting and introduced William Powers who explained the proposed legislative program to Senator Ralph J. Bean of this senatorial district, and delegates Larkin Ours, Grant County, H. Gus Muntzing, Hardy County, John Blue, Hampshire County and James W. Kellell of Mineral County.

West Virginia bankers are proposing to remove the 50 cents per hundred dollars tax on bank deposits in West Virginia. The bankers contend that such a tax tends to drive bank deposits to Virginia, Maryland, Kentucky, and Ohio where such taxes are not levied. Bankers are requesting legal permission to close on Saturdays conditioned upon a recommendation of a reduction of bank holidays to not more than seven and a half days.

Another request by the bankers will be to remove the consumers sales tax paid by state banks to place them in the same status as National banks which pays no sales tax.

Representatives from all banks in Hardy, Hampshire, Mineral, Grant and Pendleton counties were present at the banquet meeting.

About six billion checks pass through bank clearing houses in the United States annually.

CATLIN'S INDIANS RIDE AGAIN

George Catlin's Indians are back in fashion.

A hundred years ago his paintings were nationally known. They had been produced, more than 1,000 of them, right among the wild tribesmen. Like nothing else, they brought, and still bring, the red man to vivid life in his every day activities. They were exhibited widely in this country and abroad, reproduced in heavy volumes.

A self-trained, Pennsylvania-born artist, Catlin devoted his life to "the production of a literal and graphic delineation of the living manners, customs and character of an interesting people who are rapidly passing away from the face of the earth."

Sometimes referred to as the "Audubon of the Indians," he was the first white artist known to have painted the warlike, buffalo-hunting Sioux and Blackfoot. When he died in 1872, his prophecy on the destiny of the Indians had largely come to pass. And soon his own paintings lay mouldering in museums, and were objects of no particular interest.

A few years ago, however, the Smithsonian Institute in Washington and the American Museum of Natural History in New York began to notice a change. There was a demand for these works. Today this is more true than ever. They are constantly lending out the famous oils for exhibition purposes. Some of them are reproduced here.

Oil portrait of George Catlin, against an Indian background, was painted by William Henry Fisk in 1848 when Catlin was 52 years old.

Buffalo hunting was a subject Catlin depicted frequently on canvas. A Sioux warrior closes in on a formidable buffalo bull.

A Mandan village in what is now North Dakota. Catlin was first outsider to record the tribal ceremonies of the Mandans.

An Ojibway village of skin tents. The Ojibways, also called the Chippeways, inhabited shores of Lake Huron and Lake Superior.

Fearing encroaching civilization, war chief Tuckee led Cherokees from Georgia to Oklahoma area. Painted by Catlin in 1836.

Ba-da-ah-chon-du or "He who jumps over everyone," a Crow Indian whose hair was eight feet long when Catlin painted him.

Famous Seminole chief Osceola was painted while imprisoned by U. S. He died five days after Catlin saw him. It's one of Catlin's best known works.

East And West Pro Bowl Tilt Set For Sunday

NFL Stars Clash
At Los Angeles

By BOB MYERS
LOS ANGELES, Jan. 11 (AP)—Head Coach Paddy Driscoll today counted the supposition that his West team is strictly a passing outfit and its aerial weapon the main fear of the East team in the post-season Pro-Bowl football game Sunday in Memorial Coliseum.

True, the Chicago Bear head man pointed out he has tremendous passing game personnel in his three quarterbacks, his own Ed Brown and Bobby Layne of Detroit and Tobin Roie of Green Bay.

He also has such superb receivers as Harlon Hill, Billy Howton and Billy Wilson, along with rookie Leon Clarke of Los Angeles. "But don't forget," said Driscoll, "the Chicago Bears always have had a strong running team and the Bears tied the league in running this season."

He then reeled off the names of some of his runners—Hugh McElhenry, the San Francisco 49er terror; the Bears' Rick Casares, and J. C. Caroline and Baltimore's Lenny Moore, Alan Ameche and Bert Rechbacher.

Jim Lee Howell, whose New York Giants' whipped the Bears for the NFL championship, agreed that the West is amply supplied with manpower.

But it was one of Howell's players who gave the best answer. Chuck Bednarik, linebacker of the Philadelphia Eagles who has been selected for all six of the Pro-Bowl games, announced with a wide grin:

"We read in the newspapers that the West, with all its stars, is going to win. Keep it up...and we'll win the ball game."

Passing, running, take your pick. There is not much to choose between the East and the West. And the East-West score in the Pro-Bowl is even, 3-3.

There will be no national television of the game.

Chicago Cardinals Sign Jerry Tubbs

Tubbs was the Cardinals' first choice at the NFL's early draft meeting.

The Oklahoma co-captain last season never played in a losing game during his entire Sooners career.

The pink and black jockey silks of Greentree Stable were first worn in a race at Havre de Grace in 1912.

Let's Go Skiing

Downhill Running And Transversing

Having learned to walk successfully with our skis we now are ready to attempt some downhill runs. Choose a gentle slope to begin with, one with a flat top and base.

On top of the hill point both skis in a parallel position, straight down. Bend the knees with the upper portion of the body bending slightly forward. Hands should be in a position outside of each knee. The ski poles should be pointed backward.

Let the skis slide forward now. The bent knees will absorb the shock of irregular terrain and the lower center of gravity gives greater stability.

On hard snow the skis should be kept slightly apart to give greater balance. In soft or sticky snow they can be closer together, but one ski should be about one foot length ahead of the other. This will give the body greater balance and prevent a sudden fall if one ski sticks in the snow.

The term "TRANSVERSING" is applied to the action of crossing a slope diagonally and is performed by placing the upper DOWNHILL RUNNING: Skis are parallel, body in a slight crouch, hands just outside either knee, ski point back. One ski is ahead of the other in the sticky snow.

The skier is in advance of the lower one and edging or placing pressure on the upper edges of the skis.

The knees should be slightly bent and the upper part of the body should lean slightly away from the slope, thus placing more weight and pressure on the downhill ski.

Favors March 15
As Opening Date

ANNAPOLIS, Jan. 11 (AP)—Sen. DiDomenico (D-Balto 2nd) objected today to Maryland horse racing tracks running away from competition.

The starting date of this year's racing in Maryland on Feb. 12, the earliest by almost a month in the state's history, drew the State senator's fire. He disagreed with Maryland taking "what's left" of dates after New Jersey and New York tracks pick, and he introduced a bill in the Legislature to begin racing no earlier than March 15.

Bowie, which will open on Lincoln's Birthday, admittedly asked for the early opening to provide as much racing in Maryland as possible without competing with the other states.

Dr. Domenico also renewed his effort to have the tracks and State give back to bettors more of their money.

The tracks now figure out the odds up to the dime and keep any pennies up to nine. DiDomenico wants the payoff to be cut off at the nickel so the bettor would be counted out of no more than four cents.

The tracks and State split the penny pot evenly, DiDomenico says, it amounts to 11 million dollars a year and rightfully belongs to the bettors.

He also proposed to the general assembly that anyone under 16 years of age be banned from the tracks.

Andy Pafko Signs

MILWAUKEE, Jan. 11 (AP)—Andy Pafko, at 35 the oldest player on the Milwaukee roster, today signed for his 14th major league season and fourth with the Braves.

The utility outfielder and pinch-hitter, who played on National League pennant winning teams at Chicago in 1945 and Brooklyn in 1952, agreed to terms after a brief chat with General Manager John Quinn.

Jim Tatum Says He Is Satisfied

ST. LOUIS, Jan. 10 (AP)—Jim Tatum, football coach at the University of North Carolina, today scotched a report he was dissatisfied there and was interested in the vacant head coaching job at Indiana University.

Tatum, here for the American Football Coaches Assn. meeting, said he hadn't asked Indiana or any other school for a coaching job.

Tatum said he left one of "the best coaching jobs in the country at Maryland" to go to North Carolina last season and he intended to stay there.

He added that he recently talked with an architect, preparatory to building a home in North Carolina. Tatum is an alumnus of North Carolina.

Minister To Begin Duties At St. Paul's In February

REV. JOHN F. SAMMEL

Rev. John F. Sammel, Shippensburg, Pa., who has accepted a call to the pastorate of St. Paul's Lutheran Church, will assume his duties here February 1.

He succeeds Rev. Dr. Hixon T. Bowersox, who resigned as pastor of St. Paul's last summer after more than a quarter of a century as spiritual leader of the congregation.

Rev. Mr. Sammel officially announced his resignation as pastor of Memorial Lutheran Church, Shippensburg, at a meeting of the Church Council last Sunday.

He plans to leave that community on or about Wednesday, January 23, and expects to spend a short time with his father, Fred S. Sammel, Bedford, before coming here.

Pastor of Memorial Church since June 1946, Rev. Mr. Sammel had accepted the call to St. Paul's last year following unanimous action of the local congregation.

Born in Bedford, the 41-year-old pastor was educated in the Bedford County school system and graduated from Pennsylvania State College in 1937 before completing his ministerial studies in 1941 at Lutheran Theological Seminary, Gettysburg.

Rev. Mr. Sammel was assigned to the McCombsburg (Pa.) Charge following his graduation from the seminary and served there from 1941 to 1944, when he enlisted in the Naval Chaplains Corps. His two years in the armed forces were spent with the Marine Corps at Parris Island, S. C., and in the Pacific Theatre.

After leaving the service, Rev. Mr. Sammel assumed the pastorate of Memorial Church in Shippensburg. Under his leadership, the membership of that church grew from 391 persons in 1946 to 650 last year. Memorial Church last year also completed a $100,000 remodeling project on its sanctuary, and remodeled another building into a fellowship hall and Sunday School classroom.

Rev. Mr. Sammel was also active in Shippensburg community projects, being a member of the Lions Club there and serving as chaplain of both the Cumberland Valley Hose Company and Civil Air Patrol at Shippensburg. He was also annually called on to conduct the Memorial Day services in that community.

Other activities included being a director of the borough school and a member of the borough's Police Commission. Rev. Mr. Sammel had also served as both president and secretary of the Shippensburg Ministerium and president of the Cumberland Valley District of the Central Pennsylvania Synod of the United Lutheran Church.

Home, Formerly Owned By Local Resident, Burns

CAMBRIDGE — Fire damage to the newly renovated Cambridge Elks Lodge has been estimated at $65,000 by a lodge spokesman.

Fire driven by 40 m. p. h. winds swept through the one story frame building yesterday. The lodge was located five miles west of here on the Choptank River.

The Cambridge Elks Lodge destroyed Thursday was purchased less than a year ago from Elmer J. Reinhard, 508 Washington Street. After the sale of his home he bought the former John Schwarzenbach home here to which he moved last spring. A number of local people had been entertained at the former Reinhard estate, which was remodeled by the Elks to make it into a show-place lodge home.

Getting In The Swim

Designers have really tended to their knitting. The knit bathing suit is back perfected by the control of latex and the addition to wool of synthetics like nylon, dacron, and orlon to make it light, fast drying, and preshrunk.

White leads the way in water knits and all fabrics and throws a new light on the beach. Further news is in the shape of swimsuits which is entirely different this season. Many have been lengthened by at least two inches. Often this can be measured at the built-up top with higher modesty necklines, smaller armholes, and wider straps.

Everything has been done to make you look more attractive on the beach. If you're fortunate enough to take a winter cruise or trip south, you'll have to go as you are. And we hope your figure is in shape.

But, you stay-at-homeers have one advantage. You can start right this minute — today — and get your figure in shape. That is if you want to wear the new knit bathing suits that demand a good figure for they show every bulge—and without flattery.

Dieting for beauty is one of the best ways to be charming of form. Send for your copy of "Your Beauty Diet" that awaits you and will benefit not only your figure but give you more vitality, better health and beautiful hair and skin. Officials Hear Waste Plant Advantages

The opportunities for the towns of Piedmont, Luke and Westernport to have sewage treatment facilities at a substantial saving in the immediate future was pointed out yesterday at a meeting of town officials, State Health Department representatives and others with representatives of Luke Mill of the West Virginia Pulp and Paper Company.

The company announced early in December plans to build a waste treatment plant on company land east of Westernport and shortly thereafter the three communities inquired as to the possibility of joining in the project for sewage treatment purposes.

While no concrete figures were projected at the meeting, George Hall, chief engineer of the Sanitary Division of the State Department of Health, pointed out the advantage to the community of participating in the facility.

"Such a project," said Hall, "will be a benefit to everybody concerned with the towns' having made available to them in the near future a facility they probably would be unable to afford for many years to come if they were to undertake it alone."

He pointed out that the trend throughout the country is toward water pollution abatement with particular emphasis being focused on the Potomac River because it serves as Washington's water supply.

Both federal and state agencies are concentrating more and more effort on water pollution abatement. Mr. Hall said, adding that it is "essential, it's got to be done. Waste and sewage treatment is imminent right now and not from a long range standpoint."

The company will pay the great bulk of the cost of the facility with the towns paying a much smaller proportionate share, and Hall terms it a "wonderful opportunity. I would hate to see them lose it."

Representatives of the three communities were enthusiastic at the prospect of obtaining sewage treatment facilities at a minimum cost.

Tentative legislation to provide for operation of the facility is to be prepared for submission to the three communities by next Wednesday.

Industrial Promoter Is Sought

A Cumberland Chamber of Commerce spokesman yesterday said the organization is still working on the procurement of a director of its industrial promotion department.

The directorship has been vacated since October 31 when Albert H. Hargreaves resigned. Hargreaves, who was largely responsible for the location of the Pittsburgh Plate Glass Company here, is director of industrial locations for Panhandle Eastern Pipe Line with headquarters in New York City.

The position was offered on Saturday to one of eight prospects interviewed, the Chamber of Commerce said, but the organization has not received a commitment from him.

The work of the industrial promotion department has not been discontinued, the manager said, adding that the Chamber is contacting firms that have shown interest in locating in Cumberland.

"The Chamber of Commerce's industrial promotion department is still making inquiries, receiving answers and submitting replies" to industries with regard to locating in Cumberland, the manager added.

The committee, he continued, has not been inactive, and "most certainly" is acting in the best interests of the people who subscribed to the industrial development fund four years ago.

Keyser Man Waives Preliminary Hearing

A Keyser area man, who is on probation on a forgery conviction, waived a preliminary hearing Thursday and was ordered held for action of the January grand jury of Mineral County Circuit Court on a breaking and entering count.

Being held in the Keyser jail is Walter Ray Myers, 21, of RD 2, Keyser, who was arrested there Thursday and brought before Magistrate Madalyn Bazzle.

West Virginia and Keyser police said Myers was arrested for breaking and entering a service station last March. Articles taken at that time have not yet been recovered, police said.

Keeping Up With Hollywood

by Louella Parsons

HOLLYWOOD, Jan. 11 (INS) — One of the most important pictures ever undertaken by Darryl Zanuck will be "The Day Christ Died" by Jim Bishop. Bishop, who wrote "The Day Lincoln Was Shot," is giving his religious book the same minute detail, showing the immediate effect of the Crucifixion on the people of that time.

"The Day Christ Died" comes out about Easter time and will also appear serially in a national magazine. The figure of Christ probably will be shown by inference as the actual personification of the Saviour is never shown in certain countries including England.

When I learned that blonde Virginia Grey has been given the Elsie Desmond role in "The Jeanne Eagels Story"—Elsie being a girl Jeanne was supposed to have had a big fight with—I said to Virginia "I hope the screen battle with Kim Novak won't be as realistic as the one you had with Anna Magnani in 'Rose Tattoo'."

"So do I, so do I," laughed Virginia. "I got a broken rib out of that hassle."

One person Virginia most definitely is not having any fights with is Andy McLaughlin, her new romance. As I've said before, many people think these two may be secretly wed—you just never see one without the other out of working hours.

I'm glad that I accepted Mrs. Spencer Tracy's invitation to see "Parent of a Stranger," the telephone time story which will be shown on CBS television on January 20.

The story is a true one taken from a case history on file at the John Tracy Clinic in Los Angeles. It tells about Linda, a child born deaf and the shock to the parents until they accept the tragedy and start working to teach her to speak.

A fictitious name was used, but Mrs. Tracy introduced me to the real parents of Linda, who is now eight. Owen Crump, who made the film for Hal Roach, Jr., put a lot of drama into the story and I believe any parent with a handicapped child will be helped by seeing the picture.

ter if Marie will tell the story of her alleged kidnapping on the show.

"This is no publicity story," said McCleery, "it's a bona fide offer to Marie McDonald."

My advice to Albert McCleery is to wait until the mess is cleared up before putting it on television.

Snapshots of Hollywood collected at random: Kim Novak received a gold compact set with diamonds from Count Bandini, who apparently hasn't given up hope. The Christmas gift was personally presented by Mr. and Mrs. Sandro Pallavicini of Rome.

Gig Young and his bride, the former Elizabeth Montgomery, were sipping champagne and listening to the violins of Mischa Novy at the Bantam Cock on their first night home from their honeymoon.

"Young Stranger" has a young and original approach, and inclines me to think that we'll hear more from Jimmy MacArthur, Helen Hayes' boy, and Stuart Miller, the young producer.

Paul Newman, definitely separated from his wife, is rapidly becoming a sought after escort. Helmut Dantine is giving folk singer Wade Willis plenty of competition for the attention of Joanne Gilbert.

Television And Radio

Hillbilly Epic

I don't know when I first saw "Hang Up My Guns," by Wendell Mayes, but it was a good while ago. Recently Kraft Theatre presented it again without fanfare and it seemed, if anything, to have improved with age. In fact, it would be all right with me if TV producers of dramatic shows would paw around the pile of old scripts more often and repeat the better scripts of yesteryears. There ought, by this time, to be quite a respectable pile of very good ones.

In "Hang Up My Guns," a hillbilly moonshiner who enjoys a fearsome reputation as a sort of mythological giant, comes down from the hills to rescue his son from a murder charge. Down in the town he runs headlong into the Twentieth Century, mostly in the form of a lawyer, very well played by Harry Townes, and gradually gets reconciled to the idea that a man can't go around shooting his way out of trouble any more.

As the anachronistic mountaineer, Bruce Gordon was imposing and there were a good many excellent scenes, especially one in which Townes drinks the old mountaineer's moonshine and tells him that a good part of the Cox legend is malarkey. The lesson of the play is that a man can no longer stand alone, as the elder Cox had been raised to do, and that the Cox family would simply have to rejoin the human race. The lesson is told without undue moralizing.

Mayes has great natural gifts with dialogue and character. His people and his stories are heartwarming without being lachrymose. As a matter of fact, he got so carried away with his two mountain characters, the monumental Putnam Cox and his mute wife that he has written another TV play about them called "Most Blessed Woman" which Kraft will present on January 23.

"The Adventures of Hiram Holliday" was invented — a word more appropriate than written — by Paul Gallico for popular magazine consumption and it sounds like it. In this confection, Wally Cox as Mr. Holliday is a mouse-like newspaper proofreader who is supposedly also an expert on judo, fencing and every imaginable form of physical dexterity.

Mr. Holliday, accompanied by his publisher and a reporter, bounds from one mythical country to another rescuing princesses who invariably fall in love with him, fighting his way out of various dungeons and exhibiting through all this derring-do a most remarkable aplomb.

Of course, this foolishness is performed with a broad wink at the audience and such lines as "Better the gallows than the vengeance of Hiram Holliday," "Holliday—he's everywhere," "You are the bravest man I've ever known" are not meant to be taken seriously. Still, those are the lines that have to be spoken and have to be listened to, and after while you begin to wonder.

It's not that I'm against a spoof of romantic derring-do or even against romantic derring-do played for real. It's just that this can't quite make up its mind if it is the one or the other. Like a lot of other lads my age, I was a sucker for Douglas Fairbanks, the elder, but for all his gay and infectious humor, you really believed Fairbanks was actually mixed up in those preposterous adventures—and you don't believe it about Wally Cox.

This grieves me because I'm an old Wally Cox fan stemming way back to his nightclub days when he used to do a monologue about a harassed scoutmaster that I found paralyzingly funny. In this one, he is never paralyzingly funny but he is amusing and endearing. I think, though, that he is stuck with a format that contains the seeds of its own destruction. How often can you watch him rescue a princess from a dungeon without the disquieting reflection that you saw the show last week?

In Memoriam

In loving memory of my dear husband, Ira W. Valentine, who departed this life, 6 years ago today, January 12, 1951.

In sunshine of perfect peace, sadly missed by his wife Mrs. Ida Valentine.

Grand Jurors Urge Penal System Study

Setup Outdated, Says Report

A commission should be established by act of the General Assembly in Annapolis to make a thorough study of the penal system of Allegany County, the grand jury for the January term of Circuit Court recommended yesterday in its six-page report.

Universities Offer Courses In This Area

Classes Offered Here, In Keyser

The University of Maryland is again offering to arrange extension courses in this area for the second semester in the event there is any demand, according to Superintendent of Schools Ralph R. Webster.

Mr. Webster is sending form letters to all principals in Allegany County informing them of the four courses which can be provided in the event there is sufficient interest among their teachers.

Dr. Stanley J. Drazek of the College of Special and Continuing Studies of the University of Maryland is offering to arrange these courses.

Three of the courses are in education. One is a study of the Maryland public school system with special reference to school law. Another is a seminar in science education, offering an opportunity to pursue special problems in curriculum making, course of study development or other science teaching problems. The third is a course in workshops with the area of study to be governed by the makeup of the group.

Dr. Orval Udry, the new assistant director of the summer session at the University of Maryland, will teach any of these courses.

Mrs. William C. VanNewkirk will instruct a class in child psychology which also is being offered.

The classes would begin during the week of February 11 with registration prior to the first class meeting. Mr. Webster is asking each principal to notify him not later than Friday, January 18, which of these courses his teachers wish to take.

Mr. Webster also has been informed by S. T. McGee, Mineral County superintendent of schools, that West Virginia University will offer two extension classes during the second semester at Keyser High School.

There will be a choice of two of the following four: Pupil personnel administration, special problems and workshops, principles of supervision, and educational sociology.

Registration will be in Room 2 at Keyser High School Wednesday, January 23, at 7:30 p. m. Courses will be taught by Martin M. Mansperger.

Cold Weather May Lose Grip On Area Today

Warm weather is in the offing, if you can call a temperature reading in the low 40s "warm" in comparison with the frigid temperatures of the past couple of mornings.

The mercury was expected to dip as low as 15 degrees above in the western portion of the state and some snow was forecast for late last night or early this morning.

This afternoon residents are in for considerable cloudy weather and milder temperatures as the mercury may rise to the low 40s. The temperature was below freezing about 9 p. m. yesterday and was slowly dipping. Tomorrow may be generally fair but colder.

Zoning Talk Attracts 150 To Meeting

Fire Hall Jammed For LaVale Session

Some 150 residents of LaVale attended a public meeting at the Fire Hall there to get an explanation of the zoning legislation which will be introduced in the General Assembly soon by Senator Charles M. See.

Walter N. Hedrick, president of the LaVale Civic Improvement Association, began the meeting by explaining that the association was interested in zoning as well as other improvements such as street lights and signs.

Harry Kauffman, chairman of the association's zoning committee, then offered an explanation of the zoning legislation by answering questions as they arose from the floor. His co-chairman is Gilbert P. Bohn.

Mr. Kauffman told the group that there already is a certain amount of private zoning in LaVale through restrictions placed on certain properties by the builders.

This public zoning would affect all of Election District 29 except that portion which is in the Cresaptown Special Taxing Area. Before the zoning would become effective it would have to be approved in a referendum June 11.

Basically, LaVale would be divided into three large categories, business, residential and unrestricted, with certain other groupings within each category. A motel operator expressed fear that the zoning law would put him out of business. He was informed that his motel would continue as a non-conforming use because zoning cannot affect a business already in operation.

Some of those at the meeting said they opposed zoning just for LaVale but favored county-wide zoning. Mr. Kauffman explained that the county commissioners were agreeable to the LaVale zoning but felt that county-wide zoning would be too costly.

A builder, Lester McGill, complained that this would require him to get another permit when he builds a house. He already gets five, he said.

Civil Service Rule Revision Is Completed

The Civil Service Commission this week adopted a revised list of rules covering employees of the City of Cumberland.

It directed Wallace G. Ullery, secretary, to prepare the rules for printing and to distribute a copy of the rule booklet to each employee who is covered by Civil Service laws.

The rules were adopted Wednesday night after the commission made a few minor changes suggested by the Police and Firemen's Welfare Association and Municipal Employees Local 812, Mr. Ullery said.

The project represented the first complete revision made since Civil Service rules were first set up in 1943.

Included are complete rules and regulations covering all workers, including police and firemen, who formerly had a special set of rules setting up departmental procedure.

Ullery said the rule booklets should be ready for distribution in a few weeks.

Waiting Period Is Roadblock To Path Of True Love

The path of true love, says Magistrate Morris Baron, is not always so smooth.

Typical was the case heard in Juvenile Court here this week involving a 16-year-old girl who ran away with a 20-year-old man Sunday to get married.

The magistrate said the couple went to Baltimore and applied for a marriage license.

They ran afoul of the law which requires a 48-hour waiting period.

The girl's parents alerted Maryland State Police, who had them picked up in Baltimore Monday.

The magistrate released the couple, saying their intentions were honest, after both promised they would not try to repeat the performance.

The canvass will be under the direction of Rev. Ernest Muntzing, pastor of the Linville Creek Church of the Brethren, Broadway, Va., and will get under way tomorrow.

Rev. Owen G. Stultz, pastor of Knobley Church, said all members and friends are invited to a covered dish loyalty supper at the church on Wednesday, January 16 at 6:30 p. m. Short talks will be given by various members, as well as an address by Rev. Muntzing. Reservations should be sent to Mrs. Otis Rotruck, Antioch, W. Va., hostess committee chairman. Thursday and Friday will be canvass visitation days and a final report will be given at the evening worship on Friday. Rev. Stultz pointed out that a large building lot has been donated and some clearing work has been done.

REV. THEODORE K. EVANS

Former Officer Of Brotherhood To Speak Here

A former secretary and assistant treasurer of the national organization of the Brotherhood of St. Andrew who entered the Episcopal ministry only last year will speak to the Men of Emmanuel at Emmanuel Episcopal Church at 7:30 p. m. next Wednesday.

He is Rev. Theodore K. Evans, who since last July has been in charge of Trinity Episcopal Church, Shepherdstown, W. Va., and St. Bartholomew's Episcopal Church, Leetown, W. Va.

While in Cumberland, Rev. Mr. Evans also will address the Kiwanis Club at 12:15 p. m. next Thursday at Central YMCA.

Rev. Mr. Evans grew up at Nanticoke and Kingston, in the hard coal region of northeastern Pennsylvania. For many years following high school he was associated with the Melville Shoe Corporation, serving as manager of several shoe stores in Pennsylvania and New Jersey.

During World War II he was assistant production manager for a large manufacturer of war material in York, Pa. Later he assumed charge of the purchasing department of the Dentists' Supply Company of New York.

Mr. Evans began his employment by the Brotherhood of St. Andrew in 1953. During these years he studied for Holy Orders, finally entering the Philadelphia Divinity School for a concentrated course of study.

He was ordained deacon last June 23 at St. John's Episcopal Church, York, Pa., and was ordained priest last December 22, at the Shepherdstown church where he now serves as rector. Married, he is the father of a daughter, Virginia Lee, and a son, T. K. Jr., both seniors at Shepherdstown High School.

Workshops For Leaders Scheduled

Simultaneous workshops for leaders of parent-child study groups will be conducted at Barton and Parkside elementary schools from 9:45 a. m. until 3 p. m. Wednesday, January 30, according to Homer S. Higgins, supervisor of pupil personnel in the Allegany County public schools.

Frederick H. Sheeley and Miss Esther M. Carter, both visiting teachers in the pupil personnel department, will direct the two workshops.

Mr. Sheeley, who will be in charge at Barton, will be assisted by Eugene J. Hopkins, also a visiting teacher, and Mr. Higgins. Miss Carter, at Parkside School in LaVale, will be aided by Miss Dorothy Shires, state supervisor of pupil personnel.

County school principals are being asked to cooperate in assuring the attendance of leaders and potential leaders at the workshops. About 40 parents are expected at each workshop.

The Parkside workshop will serve schools in the Cumberland area, including Corriganville, Elerslie, Mt. Savage, Eckhart and Cresaptown. Schools in the area between Frostburg and McCoole will go to Barton.

The workshops are designed to help leaders with their programs by emphasizing the different types of programs that may be used in parent-child study work. Resource material also will be stressed and there will be a number of demonstrations.

Legislators Or Teachers, But Not Both

W.Va. Bill Would Halt Double Duty

CHARLESTON, W. Va., Jan. 11 (AP)—Legislation to bar school teachers or other persons whose salaries are paid out of public funds from doubling as lawmakers was proposed with strong backing today.

The measure went into the Senate under the sponsorship of the Democratic majority leader, Sen. Clarence Martin (D-Berkeley).

There has been criticism in the past of teachers serving in the Legislature and voting on measures which affect their salaries. Another practice which brings perennial arguments involves public officials who double at law-making by the expedient of resigning just before the Legislature meets and resuming their old jobs as soon as it adjourns.

Under Martin's bill a legislator would be prohibited from holding any other public office or employment, the salary for which is provided in whole or in part by legislative appropriation.

It also would prohibit legislators from holding such public jobs during the legislative terms to which they were elected, or for one full year afterward should they resign their legislative offices.

The terms of House members are two years and those of senators, four years.

There are at present 19 members of the House whose profession is listed as teaching. Three senators are listed as teachers.

The measure by Martin would provide stiff penalties. For instance, a person who knowingly or willfully disbursed state funds in violation of the provisions could be held accountable for the full amount of funds so disbursed, plus a penalty of 100 per cent of the original amount wrongfully paid out.

The Martin measure was among 52 new bills going into the House and Senate as the Legislature concluded its first week of the 53d session.

Senate President Bean (D-Hardy) offered legislation aimed at bringing about more consistency in the tax commissioner's annual surveys of property valuations. The surveys provide the basis for computation of state financial aid to schools.

Jury May Get Information On Fatal Shooting

Information obtained by West Virginia authorities in connection with the fatal shooting of Mrs. Velma Marie (Greenhorn) Sharon, 43, of Piedmont, and the wounding of Howard Butler, 35, also of Piedmont, on December 30 probably will be presented to the grand jury of Mineral County when it convenes Tuesday at Keyser.

Donald Hott, prosecuting attorney of that county, said last night that Butler, who is a patient at Memorial Hospital here, had not been questioned further. Authorities talked with the wounded man a couple of days after the dual shooting.

No tentative date has been set for a preliminary hearing, according to Mr. Hott, who said that Butler will be questioned further after his release from the hospital.

The prosecuting attorney said authorities have been "sitting tight and waiting" until Butler's release from the hospital.

The shooting occurred in Butler's apartment, 71 Ashfield Street, Piedmont, early on the morning of December 30.

Street Lighting Is Sought For Corriganville

Residents of Corriganville last night organized the Corriganville Lighting and Improvement Association to obtain street lights for the community.

Gordon A. Werner was elected president; Joseph Stuckey, vice president; D. Leslie Jenkins, secretary, and Glenn Ringler, treasurer.

The association was formed at a meeting of about 30 Corriganville residents, who had gathered at the fire hall to discuss street lighting plans and costs.

Potomac Edison Company has agreed to furnish the association with a map of possible locations for lights in time for discussion at the next meeting January 25 at 7 p. m. in the fire hall.

School Board Buys Westernport Tract

The Allegany County Board of Education has acquired some 2,000 square feet of land near Gordon Street in Westernport which is needed for ditching and drainage below the new Bruce High School.

William W. Shaffer and Vivian Shaffer sold the triangular shaped tract to the board for about $200, according to a deed filed for record in the office of Joseph E. Boden, clerk of Circuit Court.

Tax Experts Testify In Railway Case

Expect Hearing To End Monday

Two out-of-state tax experts appeared yesterday as witnesses in the tax appeal case being tried in Mineral County Circuit Court before Judge Ernest A. See at Keyser.

Dr. James Martin of Lexington, Ky., former employee of the Kentucky Tax Department, appeared for the Western Maryland Railway Company and told the court in detail the result of his findings on the state's $13,000,000 assessment for 1954 and $15,000,000 assessment for 1955, on the railway company's West Virginia holdings. He believes the valuations are not realistic.

C. M. Chapman, reired tax expert of Hont, Texas, appeared for the West Virginia Board of Public Works. A former member of the staff of the Wisconsin Tax Commission, he outlined the basis of assessment and expressed the opinion the valuation is a practical one.

Both groups of railway and state officials plan to remain in Keyser over the weekend to conclude the hearing and arguments Monday. Judge See and attorneys were of the opinion that the question can be concluded Monday, in time for the opening of the January term of court. Attaches noted that Judge See will have reams of figures, briefs and exhibits to review before he can hand down a decision in the two appeals which were tried jointly.

Judge Decides Boy Delinquent, Second Is Not

Associate Judge Morgan C. Harris decided yesterday in Allegany County Circuit Court that one teen-ager who has been confined in the Patuxent Institution at Jessups for more than a year is still a defective delinquent, but he ruled that another should no longer be confined there.

Edward William Clark, 16, of Lonaconing, was ordered back to the institution. Judge Harris had found him guilty of assault with intent to rape on October 27, 1955, and was sentenced to a term not to exceed five years in the Maryland Reformatory for Males. He also ordered him examined at the Patuxent Institution to determine whether he was a defective delinquent.

Judge Harris yesterday said Clark has a bad record for a boy of his age. He has normal intelligence, but anti-social behavior. He also noted that Dr. Harold M. Boslow, director of the institution, and Dr. Richard W. Trevisan Jr., local psychiatrist, agree that he is a defective delinquent as described in the statute. He observed that Clark is now confined in an institution where he can get the best treatment afforded in the State of Maryland by any of its institutions.

Clark will return to the institution for an indefinite term until discharged by due process of law.

Albert Theodore Rockwell, 19, of this city, was ruled by Judge Harris as no longer a defective delinquent. Here the two psychiatrists disagreed. Dr. Trevisan thinks that Rockwell, whose I. Q. is below average, has already received the maximum benefits that he can get at the institution.

Rockwell was ordered returned to the Maryland Reformatory. He was sentenced in December 1955 to a term of not to exceed three years in the Reformatory on a larceny charge. He will be given credit for time spent in the institution and previously at the reformatory.

They are the first two from this county sent to Patuxent and the first to have a hearing of the type conducted yesterday.

Assembly Pushes Tax, License Bills

Unbalanced Budget Still Problem

ANNAPOLIS, Jan. 11 (AP)—Moves to save the state 1½ million dollars in sales tax refunds and motor vehicle owners several dollars each for license plates picked up speed today in the General Assembly.

They were followed with another new approach to obtain the approximately 7 million dollars Gov. McKeldin says is needed to balance the budget. Del. Mandel (D-Balto 4th) suggested the tax on insurance and annuity premiums be doubled.

Mandel will introduce the plan Monday as a substitute for the governor's recommendation that cigarette and cigar smoking be taxed.

Other legislators are thinking about tapping the sales tax for more to meet the 7 million dollars if they are convinced it is needed.

Bills Moved Up

The Senate moved up to passage stage bills to block sales tax refunds to manufacturers and repeal of higher auto license fees.

The refunds would be available to manufacturers who have been paying a use tax on equipment they bought to fill orders from the federal government and out-of-state customers.

Sen. Friend (R-Garrett) had an amendment to exempt custom sawing of timber. But when its constitutionality was questioned, he withdrew it and said he will submit a separate bill.

The Senate also adopted a favorable report so it can pass next week repeal of higher auto license fees which have been hanging over Maryland motorists since 1954.

The Legislature each year has postponed the increase and it is now due for imposition next year.

May Not Be Needed

The fees, from $5 to $7 higher on automobiles, were supposed to raise 80 million dollars during the 12-year road building program. The state would have kept 40 million and distributed 24 million to Baltimore City and 16 million to the 23 counties.

But the Legislature has been convinced for the past three years that the money wasn't needed. The feeling is accentuated this year because the state will receive additional funds from the federal government for highways.

The House of Delegates bottled up the repealer after it passed the Senate last year. A more favorable atmosphere prevailed at this time among the delegates.

The House was in session only 11 minutes today to finish the second week of the 90-day session. It adopted a couple of favorable reports on minor bills.

Del. Jeffrey Asks Tax Relief For Allegany Oldsters

Delegate George Jeffrey, Lonaconing, yesterday introduced a bill in the House of Delegates which would exempt elderly residents living on limited incomes from the payment of property taxes on their homes.

Intended mainly to benefit widows and those who live on limited pensions, the bill would exempt from county property taxes anyone over 65 who is earning less than $100 a month.

To qualify for the tax benefit, one must have been a resident of Allegany County for at least five years and hold a legal or beneficial title to the property, which must be one's permanent residence.

B&O Railroad Buys South End Tract

The Baltimore and Ohio Railroad has acquired property in South Cumberland from the South Cumberland Planing Mill Company, according to a deed filed for record in the office of Joseph E. Boden, clerk of Allegany County Circuit Court.

This property is situated near the northwest line of Virginia Avenue and the northeast line of Queen Street. Tax stamps affixed to the deed indicated that the purchase price was in the vicinity of $16,500.

Property involved in the purchase was purchased by the South Cumberland Planing Mill Company by deed dated December 31, 1919, from the Maryland Glass Company.

Plumbing Bill For County Is Proposed

County Board Receives Measure

A suggested bill which would empower the Allegany County Board of Commissioners to appoint a plumbing inspector, who would ascertain that certain construction work done outside of incorporated communities in the county conforms to the State Plumbing Code, was presented to the county commissioners yesterday for their consideration.

Commissioner C. N. Wilkinson said he was in favor of such a bill, but Commissioners William H. Lemmert and James Orr deferred their opinion. Mr. Lemmert explained that he would like an expression from the people before making a decision.

Present Bill

Attorney W. Earle Coby and three local plumbers attended the meeting and presented the proposed bill which they would like the County Delegation in Annapolis to introduce. Walter N. Yoder, Raymond H. Lapp and Carl G. Valentine were the three plumbers on hand.

This suggested bill states that before a building permit could be issued the water supply and sanitary disposal plans would have to be approved by the County Health Department or the plumbing inspector. After the work is done it is to be inspected by the Health Department or plumbing inspector to see that the work conforms to State Plumbing Code requirements.

The bill also would make it unlawful for any person in an unincorporated area of the county to perform any plumbing work in his home or business place without a permit.

Another section authorizes and empowers the county commissioners to appoint a plumbing inspector if it shall find the same is in the public interest and necessary for preservation of public health. The necessary levy to pay his salary also is provided. The inspector is required to be a licensed plumber.

$25 Fine Provided

A $25 fine is provided for failure to comply with the provisions of the measure. The Mayor and City Council of each incorporated town and city of the county is empowered to contract with the county for the services of the plumbing inspector.

Earlier yesterday, a letter was received by the Allegany County Board of Commissioners from the Building Trades Council requesting the board to approve state plumbing code regulations for the county.

The letter was signed by Harry L. Hickie, council president; Charles L. Cross, plumbers representative; George W. Lucas, electricians' representative; George Edward Clark, business agent of Local 568 Iron Workers; C. E. Stutzman, vice president of Local 453, Teamsters Union and F. Patrick Allender, business agent of the Carpenters Union.

The board went on record as favoring an increase in the pay of persons who serve on the grand and petit juries. Information to that effect has been sent to Del. George Hughes Jr., minority leader of the House. The exact amount would be set by the commissioners after passage of a statewide measure.

Light Moments In Legislature

ANNAPOLIS, Jan. 11 (AP)—The clerk of the House finished reading a resolution urging support for a polo fund drive on Jan. 19. It is being promoted by the Moose.

"All in favor say moo—I mean aye," called out Del. Wilkinson (D-Prince Georges) who was sitting in as speaker.

Del. Boone (D-Balto County) took the floor to suggest that the sergeant-at-arms get a bucket of water and "stand by the gentleman from the Sixth District (Del. Hodges). I'm afraid we're going to have an explosion."

Hodges was smoking a cigar the size of a baloney.
